Selectmen's Meeting

SHELLFISH PROPAGATION

Al Pauline, Shellfish Warden, unfolded a plan to Selectmen to seed the town's shellfish flats in areas to which the whole population of the town has access. In a detailed analysis of the town's waterfront, Pauline pointed out many areas of the shore which have good shellfish flats but are cut off to the public. Selectman James Huntoon suggested that the excellent sand between Angelica and Strawberry Point might be seeded since he said the town owns Angelica. Mr. Pauline replied that the shifting sands are really not suitable for shellfish except in the innermost section of the cove. Pauline said the prime areas now accessible are Ned's Point, Shining Tides and Hiller's Cove. Pauline said that he has been using Pine Island, which is closed to shellfishing, as a protected area to develop seed shellfish which he transfers to the town's shellfishing areas when they are properly developed. This natural propagation is saving the town money on seed that otherwise must be purchased and transported. Pauline pointed out that the area from Gibbons' Beach to Ship Street has been closed for years by the State because of pollution and he suggested that an analysis might be requested now that the town has the sewer system in operation. This would open up a lot of shoreline for shellfish.

Mr. Pauline said that his great concern at present is the large catamaran owned by Daniel Briggs. This vessel was moved from the town wharf to Ship Street wharf where it was tied up for the winter and now is located on the best town clam flats east of Shining Tides. Pauline said that he had talked to Wharf Commissioner Lloyd Haskell and had been told that the plan was to dynamite the craft. Pauline said that an oil slick had been detected originating from the holed smaller hull and he had much concern for the clam flats. The Selectmen asked Executive Secretary Carol Adams what she knew of the situation and were told that it had been promised that the boat would have been removed the day before. Chairman John DeCosta told Pauline that if oil is damaging the shellfish flat the boat should be removed at once. Selectman Frank Suzan told Pauline that the Board of Selectmen agrees that no dynamiting will take place and that the catamaran should be moved.

REVIEW INSURANCE

Broker of Record Raymond Covill reviewed in detail with Selectmen the coverage of the town. He suggested several areas where the insurance could be shifted or dropped. Mr. Covill recommended that fire equipment be insured in such a manner that new equipment could be purchased if the older equipment was destroyed. He recommended that all equipment in the town barn be covered for fire and that the 3 cruisers be covered for fire, theft and collision. He suggested that umbrella coverage for town liability should be raised. Covill said that low value buildings and flagpoles coverage might be dropped.

Mr. Covill said that the Selectmen should seek advice on EMT malpractice insurance.

The Selectmen thanked Mr. Covill for his valuable service to them in his yearly reviews of the insurance which he has done for a number of years.

Mr. Covill said that he considered the service "as my gift to the town".

REQUEST FOR BANNER

Ellen Driscoll and Mary Ann Amoruso asked Selectmen for permission to hang a banner on the fire station to advertise a Parent-Teachers' Club Fair at Center School set for Saturday, June 5th, with a rain date for June 12th. They said that they would have 30 craft booths and food and games. Permission was granted.

ASK SELF SERVICE

Purnell Guard, d/b/a Guard's Auto Center of Mattapoisett, asked Selectmen what steps are required to establish a self-service gasoline center. He said that all area towns have such stations and that if a permit is required he would like to apply for one.

The Selectmen said that they will try to act on the matter at the next meeting.

MOSQUITO CONTROL

Ridgeway Crouch, Town Mosquito Control Officer, told Selectmen that Plymouth County will begin aerial spraying in Mattapoisett in July using a County helicopter. The spray used will be "abate", a low toxic lavacide and a notice will be posted 3 days in advance. It was noted by Selectmen that aerial spray of lavacide usually is done in June. Crouch said that this date was late but that the County has purchased its own aircraft which will not be delivered until July. According to a report by Gary Benzon, Superintendent of Plymouth County Mosquito Control, the emphasis is shifting from ground spraying of flying adult mosquitoes to aerial spraying of breeding sites.

Girls' State

Mr. David Hagen has announced that three students from the Class of 1983 at Old Rochester Regional High School have been selected to attend the Girls' State Convention at Bridgewater State College from June 13-18.

The young women chosen to attend are Dawn Lizotte and Susan Field, who will be sponsored by the Mattapoisett American Legion Auxiliary. The Mattapoisett Lions Club will be sponsoring Catherine Black.

These representatives were chosen by the faculty at Old Rochester on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character, service to the school and citizenship.

At the convention, the representatives will establish and operate State Government in miniature at Bridgewater. This includes forming two political parties, holding conventions, nominating candidates, conducting campaigns and elections. This play was first presented in 1844 in Boston. Success was instant, and the show toured with various troupes for several years during the rise of the Temperance Movement.

P.T. Barnum latched onto THE DRUNKARD and brought it to New York. In true Barnum style, he began the ballyhoo by taking "the pledge" himself publicly and encouraged audiences to do the same (with provisions for such at the box office). It was soon noted that many of the nightly audience of two thousand would laugh in the wrong places. Worse yet, many males between acts checked out for a fast belt to fortify themselves for the denouement. The women, however, absorbed every nuance of the melodrama and wept and sobbed throughout each performance. (Barnum made a fortune selling handkerchiefs!) When the crass New Yorkers began applauding the villain and encouraging the hero to drink, P.T. Barnum closed the show.

THE DRUNKARD had regular revivals as the Temperance Movement continued and was still going strong leading into the Prohibition Era. In 1933 the play was vividly revived in Los Angeles and enjoyed the longest run in the history of legitimate theatre, playing to packed houses of hissing and booing audiences until it finally closed in 1962. It was shortly after this that Bro Herrod and Barry Manilow got together and revised the script and added a musical score. The current version, in rehearsal now at the Marion Art Center, ran continuously for six years at the 13th Street Theater in New York.

The Marion Art Center is located on Main Street in Marion. Performances are scheduled for May 21, 22, 27, 28 and 29, at 8:30 p.m.; seating will be cabaret style. Reservations must be made in advance by calling 748-1035. Don't miss this classic melodrama: booing, hissing and weeping are permitted.

Stolen Ball

Editorial, D.C.J.

President Ronald Reagan is the most violent target of political cartoonists since President Abraham Lincoln. Lincoln was consistently protrayed as ape like. Reagan is drawn as consistently dumb. Reagan's idea of defense against the hydrogen bomb is to take cover under a tiny school desk, etc., etc., etc.

Is that so?

On May 8, the Rev. Billy Graham was in Moscow together with invited religious leaders from around the world. They were invited by the Communist state-authorized Russian Orthodox Church to participate in a May 10-14 conference of religious leaders opposed to nuclear war. Since the Communist government of the U.S.S.R. is atheist and no religion is tolerated except for the purpose of control and propaganda it follows as night follows day that the anti-nuclear conference was directed and programmed by the ruling Communists of the Soviets. It also may be interpolated that this was no sudden impulse but part of an orchestrated plan.

An analysis of this long range plan by John Rees in "Review of the News", March 24, 1982, placed the "peace" campaign as beginning in 1980 under the direction of Moscow's most important vehicle for covert action, the World Peace Council. This Soviet strategy was fed into the United States through 60 key disarmament groups. This 2 year campaign led to the strength of the Nuclear Freeze campaign which to most Americans emerged seemingly out of nowhere.

President Reagan, in his recent speech embracing the Nuclear Freeze principals, must be credited with a major victory. In one stroke he stole the ball from the Soviet Union and defused their carefully laid 2-year plan. In this same stroke he pulled the wind out of the sails of all the organized groups of citizens who were prepared for a long campaign of marching and demonstrating. They are now without a cause. The Soviets now have the initiative stolen from them and must pretend to have an interest in mutual disarmament. This certainly was not their plan at all. That original plan was to pressure the United States government to reduce armament through organized protest throughout the country.

The seeming victory for the Nuclear Freeze has switched momentum and di-

Open Letter

AN OPEN LETTER TO PARENTS OF THE CLASSES OF '82 & '83 AND OTHER STUDENTS:

As many of us are rushing around buying prom gowns, renting tuxedos and making plans for graduation parties, I ask you to stop and consider the tragedies that have occurred in the area to our young people at this time of year.

This year, as in the past, Old Rochester Regional High School is preparing our students for these many events in various ways. In conjunction with the local police departments the school will produce a program for the students with films and speakers on the effects of drinking and driving.

We all know that perhaps this year as in the past, this may not be enough. It's not something that one likes to consider, but for too long our communities seem to have taken the attitude that if we ignore it long enough it will go away; or perhaps you sit at home awaiting your child's arrival on these "special" nights desperately hoping that all will go well.

We've all heard the phrase, "it's not easy being a kid these days"...well, it's not easy being a parent either. If you find yourself being "peer-pressured" (yes, adults have peers who pressure too) into decisions that you would rather not make; if you've heard once too often "But every-

Old Colony Health Fair

On May 10th and 11th the freshman class of Health Services students at Old Colony presented the Second Annual Health Fair to the school's students and faculty. Approximately 500 people viewed the 8 booths and had their hearing, eyesight, weight and blood pressure checked.

The booth created by Darcy DeMoura and Kathy King of Acushnet consisted of information on the structure of the eye and ear.

The students tested participants' eyesight and hearing with equipment loaned by the Lions Club. Laura Grey of Rochester designed a booth which explained the composition of blood and how and what the Red Cross does with blood they collect at blood drives. She also weighed each person and calculated the amount of blood each individual has. Lucy Farias of Acushnet developed an interesting booth which told the story of what results when one tries to drink and drive.

Lori Buckes of Rochester and Susan Bowman of Mattapoisett designed a booth informing the public about Respiratory Diseases. At this booth you could view demonstrations showing the effect of a cigarette on artificial lungs and also have your lungs tested for Carbon Monoxide. The equipment was loaned by the Southeastern Lung Association. Acushnet residents Diane Lanzoni's and Karen Pemberton's booth was concerned with the many forms of cancer and early detection. They presented to the female population a film about monthly breast examinations sponsored by the American Cancer Society. A booth titled "The World of the Handicapped" was designed by Wendy Souza of Acushnet and Nancy McKay of Rochester. It consisted of a wheelchair maze, a tape recording demonstrating how the hearing impaired and those with a hearing aid hear, and an exhibit that one had to feel to view. The main goal for this booth was to make those of us not handicapped be aware of the problems of the handicapped. Hypertension and Coronary Disease was the title of the booth designed by Jackie Nolan and Christine Flaherty of Carver. Valuable information about diet, exercise and early warning signs was presented along with the chance to have your blood pressure checked. Another exhibit consisted of First Aid information and C.P.R. demonstrations.

The emphasis of the Health Fair was early detection, prevention, and education.

The Health Services program at Old Colony is a 4 year course of study. Its goal is to introduce the student to the hundreds of careers in the health care field and to teach basic nursing skills so the student can

Historic House and Garden Tour

A trip back to the glorious days of New Bedford's whaling and textile eras is in store for those who participate in the New Bedford Preservation Society's first Historic House and Garden Tour. On Sunday, May 23rd, the proud owners of over a dozen architecturally important homes will open their doors and welcome those who wish to experience the diverse and inspired beauty of some of New Bedford's more prominent homes.

"Nowhere in all America will you find more patrician-like houses; parks and gardens more opulent, than in New Bedford." So stated Ishmael in Herman Melville's classic story Moby Dick. It is the goal of the Preservation Society to present, "... these brave houses and flowery gardens" to anyone interested in journeying through part of New Bedford's past. Preservation Society president Ann Eaton states, "This is an important project, because it will make people aware of what can be done with an old house and thus, further the cause of preservation in New Bedford." Highlighting the tour will be the William Rotch Jr. House. This Greek Revival house is one of the grandest on the east coast. It is the only house in the city to retain its formal gardens, which were created by James Arnold of Arnold Arboretum fame.

PHOTOGRAPHY SHOW AT ART CENTER

The works of 3 photographers will be featured at the Marion Art Center. The opening for members and their guests will be Friday evening, May 21, from 6 to 8 p.m. The exhibit will continue through June 9th.

Caryn J. Koffman was born in Boston but is now living in Elkins, Pa. where she does post graduate work at Temple University. She has participated in many shows in Pennsylvania and Massachusetts winning several prizes. Her photography has appeared in the Marion Art Center sidewalk show for the past 3 years. Jack Ramsdale is a new resident of Marion. He grew up in Erie, Pa. and received his M.F.A. in photography at Cranbrook Academy of Art in Michigan. He has exhibited in many shows in Pennsylvania and Michigan. In this current show all of Ramsdale's pictures involve a colored portrait with a pane of glass.

Elaine A. Silva lives in New Bedford. She has exhibited locally and in Boston. Her interest seems to be centered around the history of steamboats. She is assistant art director of Allied Advertising Agency, Boston, and art director of New Bedford Magazine and Gloucester Magazine.

Youth Leadership Seminar

Charles Drayton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Drayton of 4 Bennett Road, Rochester, has been chosen to represent Old Rochester Regional High School at the Massachusetts Youth Leadership Seminar.

Outstanding sophomores who have demonstrated leadership potential are nominated by high schools throughout the state. In the past, all students nominated attended the Seminar. Because of inflation, the number of students chosen has been limited for the past two years. Therefore, Charles was one of only 180 students from all over Massachusetts selected by the Hugh O'Brian Committee to attend the Seminar.

The Seminar is being sponsored by the Boston Jaycees in cooperation with the Hugh O'Brian Youth Foundation and the Massachusetts Jaycees. This year's Seminar will be held at Boston College June 4-6.

Coach Bob Sweeney's comments: Another team effort from a well-balanced squad. There were several close matches. Season record: 17 and 1.

TRACK - Tabor 63, Belmont Hill 82. Steve Vaitses (Mattapoisett) was a big winner for Tabor with firsts in the 110 meter high hurdles (17.6) and the high jump (5'4") and seconds in javelin (120') and 300 m. intermediate hurdles (45 sec.).

MIDDLER TENNIS: Tabor 4, Fay School 5. Coach Leighton Hutchinson comments: A very good return match after a 1-8 defeat at the beginning of the season.

SAILING - Tabor 3, Moses Brown 1. Tabor defeated Moses Brown in perfect team racing conditions in outer Marion Harbor (variable NE winds 5-10 knots). The racing was close and competitive and yet there were no protests filed, in contrast to the previous meet between the two teams. Tabor again rotated six different crews through the meet, indicating the depth of the squad.

Do you know the psychology of bidding and how to win at auctions?

challenge to the reader, or is intriguing, he will find satisfaction and pleasure in attending the comprehensive, fact-filled lecture being given by Henry T. Callan of Marion on May 20 at 7 p.m. at the Southworth Library, 732 Dartmouth Street, South Dartmouth.

"The Ins and Outs of Collecting Antiques" is the title of the program, one in an ongoing series of cultural events sponsored by the Friends of the Dartmouth Libraries as a free service to the community. The interested public is invited to attend.

A recognized expert in many fields of valuable antiques, his personal favorites are fine furniture of the 1770-1830 period; American samplers; Chinese export porcelain; American folk arts; and some type of old clocks. Mr. Callan became interested in collecting antiques at the age of thirteen, when he bought his first old clock. He will illustrate his lecture with items from his own collection.

A question/answer period will follow the presentation, after which he will offer his services, gratis, to identify and appraise any one item which any member of the audience may have brought in to show him. Doors to the lecture room will be opened at 6:30 p.m. Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the program.

CAREERS IN THE FIELD OF AGING

On Thursday, May 6, fourteen Old Rochester juniors and seniors attended a workshop on career opportunities in the fields of geriatrics and gerontology. The program was sponsored by SMU's Institute on Health and Long Life, and funded by a grant from Southeastern Massachusetts Area Health Education Center. Students spent the day at New Bedford High School where they participated in a variety of workshops along with other area high school students. The five workshops dealt with the areas of Community Services, Nutrition Programs, Recreational Programs, Social Work, and Health Care Services.

In addition, the keynote speaker for the program was Dr. Thomas Mahoney, Secretary of the Massachusetts Department of Elder Affairs. Dr. Mahoney discussed the variety of career fields open to the individual interested in working with older citizens. He also pointed out that 5000 people per day reach the age of 65 in the United States. By the year 2000 one out of every five citizens will be 65 years or older. At the present time people in their 80's outnumber every other age group.

Dr. Mahoney explained that Massachusetts has one of the best systems for working with the aging. The Commonwealth was the first state to give the Department of Elder Affairs cabinet status. There are twenty-seven home-care corporations in the state. These private, non-profit organizations work with the older citizen in all areas of daily living. Dr. Mahoney did point out that careers in this field often do not offer great financial remuneration but the personal rewards and sense of satisfaction is great.

Overall the day was a profitable and enlightening experience for all the students and adults involved.

training in the Early Prevention of School Failure Program. Mrs. Lucille Werner, National Coordinator and developer of the Program, conducted the training procedures.

During the jam-packed two days, participants received training in program awareness, testing procedures, classroom management techniques, screening procedures and follow-up. The program is designed to identify, through the screening procedures, learning problems that could adversely affect school performance. As a follow-up to the screening, the program provides professional service to all children who are enrolled in regular kindergarten classrooms, and special education service to children identified as having moderate or severe learning problems.

Special information will be available to parents during screening, which will take place in the primary schools in Marion, Mattapoisett and Rochester during the last week in May.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED

Sandra J. Kellogg and Leonard I. Sleutel were married Sunday, May 16th, in Mattapoisett by Lois Bassett, Justice of the Peace. The couple will be residing in Fairhaven.

Handweaving Course

The early summer session at Southeastern Massachusetts University (May 24-June 25) is offering a 5-week intensive course in handweaving. The course will be taught by Marjorie Durko Puryear, assistant professor of weaving and textile design, and will be open to beginning or advanced weavers. Mrs. Puryear has been teaching at SMU for five years, and holds degrees from the Art Institute of Chicago and Indiana University.

"A handweaving course has not been offered during the summer here for about six years, because all of our time, energy and equipment have gone to our regular degree students," said Mrs. Puryear, "but the time and local response seems right for this year.

"While regular university students can apply this summer course to their degree requirements, members of the community can sign up whether they think they are creatively qualified or not, because weaving is one of those wonderful crafts that is enjoyable to everyone."

Students in the course will be directed in a number of weaving exercises involving pattern weave techniques on the four and eight harness floor loom and will develop two major projects in the form of garments, domestic accessories, or wall hangings.

Area Galleries

Artworks Gallery of 610 Purchase Street of New Bedford is featuring the paintings of Charles L. Morse and Edmond C. Johnson, starting on May 22nd and continuing through June 12th. The public is invited to a wine and cheese open house on Saturday, May 22nd, from 7 to 9 in the evening.

The oil paintings of Ed Johnson of North Easton, Massachusetts reflect a life-long interest in the New England outdoors. The subject matter of the coastal areas and its marine heritage along with the wildlife native to the region have been the main concentration of his work which has been exhibited at the major New England art competitions, as well as the Mystic Seaport Museum, Cape Cod Art Association, and the Rockport Art Association.

Charles L. Morse, a resident of South Dartmouth, has been a watercolor/acrylic painter for the past twenty-five years. Largely a self-taught artist, his paintings have been well received at one man shows and at art galleries. His early training as an engineer and draftsman has proved invaluable to his work as an artist, and it is reflected in the precision of his artwork.

The Artworks Gallery at 610 Purchase Street, New Bedford, a co-operative showcase for local artists, is open to the public Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Watercolor "Manhattan"

EXHIBITION AT WHALING MUSEUM-STORY WHALESHIP "MANHATTAN" IN JAPAN, 1845

The rare and important watercolor of the whaleship Manhattan will be the centerpiece of a special exhibition at the New Bedford Whaling Museum (Old Dartmouth Historical Society), 18 Johnny Cake Hill, New Bedford. This exhibit opens to the public on May 22 and runs through July 12. The Museum is open Monday through Saturday, 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.; Sunday, 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m.

The watercolor depicts the Manhattan at anchor in Uraga Bay, 1845. She had rescued thirteen distressed Japanese seamen in the North Pacific, and sought to repatriate them despite Japanese policy of excluding foreign vessels. This policy had extended for thirty-eight years.

Painted by unknown Japanese artists, the watercolor is filled with incredible detail, the result of the close scrutiny given the Manhattan by her Japanese hosts who had seen no Western vessel for 38 years. It would be yet another 8 years before Commodore Perry would arrive in these waters.

The pictures, scrolls, maps, documents, and objects assembled for this exhibition come from the Kobe Maritime Museum, the Smithsonian, Columbia University and several private collections.

The acquisition of the Manhattan watercolor was made possible by the generous response of friends and members to the 1981 appeal for special purchase funds.

"TAPESTRY: OLD TECHNIQUE, NEW DIRECTION"

On Thursday evening, May 20, at 8:00 p.m. the Westport Historical Society welcomes Marjorie Durke Puryear as she presents a slide lecture on historically notable tapestries, and how that same technique is being used by contemporary fiber artists in new ways.

Ms. Puryear received her Bachelor of Fine Arts (BFA) degree from the Art Institute of Chicago in 1966, and her Masters in Fine Arts (MFA) from Indiana University in 1969. Her woven works have been shown in local and national exhibitions since 1966, and are currently being shown in the Meyer, Brier, Weiss Gallery in San Francisco. She is currently an assistant professor of weaving and textile design at Southeastern Massachusetts University.

This slide presentation will take place in the Pacific Union Congregational Church, 526 Old County Road, Head of Westport. Ths public is welcome to attend this program. There is a small admission charge for those who are not Westport Historical Society members. Refreshments will be served.

Children's Museum

Spring greenery is finally bursting out all around us. Flowering trees and flowering bulbs have added their pinks and whites to the renewed landscape. Now Spring wildflowers come into their own. The tiny yellow faces of celandine and shy lily of the valley and May-apple can be found at this time of year. The Children's Museum will be conducting a Spring Wildflower Walk on Saturday morning, May 22nd, starting at 10:00 a.m. Please join us and expand your "Spring Experience" this year. The walk is free
